Original Sprout: Review and Giveaway

Original Sprout™
Worry-Free Luxury™

I remember when I had my first baby girl. I used to dream about the day her hair grew long enough for me to put it into pretty braids and barrettes, and I would imagine quiet evenings by the fire with her on my lap as I calmly combed out her beautiful blonde locks and rolled them in curlers for the next day..... Okay, now fast forward two years. On any given morning you will find me wielding a hair brush like a weapon, chasing my screaming daughter around the house and threatening to shave her head if she doesn't sit down and let me brush the rat's nests out of her hair. Braids? You've got to be kidding! I'm lucky if I can hold her down long enough to get her, wild, crazy, and completely flyaway hair into a ponytail (but it is blonde, so at least I was right about something right.... right!?)

If this scenario sounds familiar, then I cannot wait to tell you about Original Sprout, a company which specializes in natural, organic, and even vegan skin and hair care products. A few weeks ago, Original Sprout sent me out a bottle of Miracle Detangler, some Scrumptious Baby Cream, and a bottle of Hair and Body Baby Wash to try. I've said it before and I'll say it again, my kids have super-sensitive skin, so I'm always a little apprehensive about using new skin and hair care products on them. However, because these products are natural and organic, I decided to give it a shot. Now I can safely say that I am an Original Sprout convert! The baby wash was gentle enough to use on all three of my kids, and it works as a shampoo and a body wash. After bath time, I lathered my older children up with the Scrumptious Baby Cream (it contains Rosemary, a natural relaxant but also an herb which irritates my youngest daughter's skin), and then I took a deep breath and prepared to do battle against my 2 year old daughter, armed only with the Miracle Detangler and a fine-toothed comb. But although the odds were drastically against me, I actually got her hair combed without a fight! The Miracle Detangler, combined with the Hair and Body Baby Wash, worked for June's hair so well that it was almost too easy to get her hair combed (notice I said almost (-:)). Since we've started using these products, our skin is softer, our hair is stronger and shinier, and my dreaded daily battles with my daughter have almost completely ended. June loves to spray the detangler on all by herself, and since it never leaves a greasy residue on her head, I don't mind letting her have at it!

Of course, Original Sprout has many more products than the three I was lucky enough to try. They offer a wide selection of styling products, shampoos and conditioners, and lotions and creams, just to name a few. None of their products are ever tested on animals (I won't use products that are), and everything is natural and organically made. Trust me, this is one company you definitely want to check out!
