Original Sprout has a collection of natural hair & skin products made for babies and up. Once you get the chance to try out some of these great items you will be constantly stealing the shampoo from your little one's bathroom. Plus you no longer have to pack or purchase separate products for the adults and children in your home. You can do this and not compromise on quality when you purchase from Original Sprout. I was extremely impressed with the products I tried. Their Miracle Detangler lives up to it's name. The knots in my hair are insane and it can take me over 30 minutes just to comb them out after washing. The Miracle Detangler drastically cut down on my time & pain all the while leaving my hair feeling both silky and soft. Original Sprout's products are using soothing organic botanicals and they don't include harmful ingredients like phytoestrogens (which can be linked to things like fertility problems and early puberty). Original Sprout has made certain that there are no harmful ingredients in their products. Some of the things left out like citrus oils (which can be photosensitizers which can increase the risk of sunburns & skin cancer) were ingredients I had no idea were even potentially harmful to my family. I feel very safe using their products and I continue to be impressed by the results I see after using them. My hair looks shinier, healthier, and softer! Their broad range of styling and hair care products covers all the needs you might have in the hair department. They even offer specialty products kits for cradle cap, eczema, swimmers, color-retention, and anti-lice. Take a moment to visit Original Sprout and to stock up on high quality products that won't compromise where your family's safety is concerned.
