We had the opportunity to try out the Original Sprout Miracle Detangler, Natural Shampoo, and Scrumptious Baby Cream. I first tried out the Miracle Detangler. I have colour treated hair that's on the dry side and little mr. bean has super fine, longish hair that is starting to get knotted easily. I was impressed. It was very conditioning, yet did not weigh my hair or mr. bean's hair down at all. When miss button was here on a visit, we used it in her long curly hair and it worked perfect. Huge thumbs up for the Miracle Detangler.

As for the Scrumptious Baby Cream, I saved that one for myself. I would have tried it on mr. bean, but one of the ingredients was zinc which is a big no-no with cloth diapers. Ah well, it's not often I get to try something all to myself! The lotion is unscented, which I really liked, and was not greasy at all.
